

Summary of Operator's Rules for EuroMillions Lottery

EuroMillions is a lottery played across several European countries. Players are required to select 5 main numbers, from 1 to 50. They must also select two 'Lucky Star' numbers from an additional pool of 1 to 12. During the draw process, 5 random main numbers are drawn and 2 random Lucky Stars are drawn. The draw takes place twice each week, on Tuesdays and Fridays in Paris.

The minimum jackpot is €17 million (approximately AUD$25 million). When the jackpot is not won, the jackpot rolls over to the next draw. The jackpot increases each draw where it's not won, until it reaches the EuroMillions jackpot cap of €220 million (approximately AUD$340 million). When the cap is reached, if it is not then won for 5 draws, the jackpot prize rolls down to the next division with a winner.

Each time the jackpot cap is reached, and subsequently won, it will increase by €10 million (approximately AUD$15 million) for the next cycle. The same mechanism will be applied until the jackpot cap reaches €250 million (approximately AUD $385 million).

Jackpot Rollovers

There can be five jackpot rollovers. If, in the fifth rollover draw (which is a 'Must Be Won Draw'), there are no jackpot winners, the jackpot prize will be allocated to the non-jackpot prize categories that have at least one winner. Each of these prize categories will receive a percentage of the jackpot prize. These percentages per prize category are:

Match 5 plus bonus ball: 3%

Match 5: 6%

Match 4: 17%

Match 3: 74%

If there are no winners in any category then lottery operator and the UK Gaming Commission will determine the rates to reset the percentages amounts actual winners.

Only one prize can be won per single game

A single game on a winning ticket only qualifies to win once. If a game fulfils the criteria to win more than one prize, only the highest prize will be paid out.

Only one prize can be won per single game

Lottery winnings are not currently taxed in the UK.
